$29 million school system too costly?

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

The school system that the Granite City Board of Education is preparing to shrink in size has grown to the extent that its current operating budget adds up to $29,924,019 overall.

With revenue falling far short of that amount, the district is studying ways to perhaps trim a net amount of $7 million from the existing spending pattern when it develops its July 1983-June 1984 financial document.

Expenditures in 1982-83 are budgeted at: education, $25,930,424; building operations and maintenance, $1,975,200; transportation, $1,306,400; and municipal retirement, $711,925.

The School Board has called a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. tomorrow to act on minutes of its Dec. 7 meeting, consider matters of budget and cost control, transact any business items deemed appropriate, and conduct an executive session on "matters concerning the continuation of employment of staff and matters concerning negotiations."

Supt. B. J. Davis has said cost-cutting proposals being studied by the board will be made public this month. Board members told the audience at last week's meeting that they hope to issue their listing of cost reduction ideas either tomorrow night or Dec. 21.

Citizens' reactions will be sought, with final decisions and actions slated by the board in January, effective in June.

But officials say that if the advice received is to "keep everything at its present status," it would be impossible to follow such a recommendation.

Anticipated 1982-83 revenue, figured on an accrual basis, is projected in the budget at $24,531,615, including $21,055,492 in the education fund, $1,539,110 in the building fund, $1,220,548 in the transportation fund and $716,465 in the municipal retirement fund.

The difference between $24,531,615 in income and $29,924,019 in expenses is $5,392,404.

'Responsibility education' at Grigsby, Prather and South

REPF (Responsibility Education through Peer Facilitation), a project designed to promote growth within secondary school students in terms of communication, responsibility and decision-making skills, is to be operated in three local schools.

The project is the result of educators' concern about the attitudes and behavior of teenagers. It will be initiated in the second semester of 1982-83 in the following Granite City schools: Grigsby, Prather and South.

The project will be conducted by the guidance department under the direction of Vasil Eftimoff, administrative assistant for pupil personnel services.

Director of this federally-funded program is Robert Komorech from Meridian Community Unit District 101 in Mounds, Ill. He conducted a one-day intensive training session on Nov. 19 for selected school personnel: Evelyn Fedora, Grigsby Junior High; Sondra DeVaney, June Mills and Larry Williams, Prather Junior High; Donna Daisy, Alternative Center; and Sonya Adkerson, Sheryl Evans, Jack Haug and Dorothye Reynolds South High.

Each of these will direct a group of 10 to 15 students in REPF during the spring semester.

Students will learn how to make appropriate decisions, how to solve problems more effectively, how to communicate with others, and how to develop leadership qualities.

The students will then be given the opportunity to help others by putting in to practice what they have learned.

"Interested students should contact the counselors at Grigsby, Prather and South," Eftimoff said.

Project REPF will be implemented at no direct cost to the school district. All materials and training will be paid for with federal funds from a grant written by Mrs. June Mills, a counselor at Prather Junior High.

Tax hike sought for a Venice waterslide

By PAT HAY LUTZ
For the Press-Record

Venice residents may decide in April to polish their "diamond in the rough" by approving the construction of a waterslide facility in Lee Park.

Tom McAuliffe and Art Fiascone, representatives from Technetic Industries, of North Carolina, informed park board members Thursday night that Lee Park has "a tremendous amount of potential and open space to offer some kind of comprehensive plan to provide entertainment for the entire community."

Passage of a 15-cent tax rate increase in April would provide the park district with approximately $200,000 to construct a waterslide, bumper boats and a bath house-concession stand facility. Funds for the renovation of the entire park, which would include new dugouts, playground equipment, and resurfaced tennis courts, are included in the tax rate proposal.

According to the Technetic represenatives, Venice could construct a "Slide-a-Ride" system, which would consist of 211 feet of seamless flume with a 24-foot tower elevation in a space of 57 feet by 29 feet.

Materials, labor and construction costs are estimated at $85,000 for the slide. For an estimated $10,000, the fountain area could be renovated for strictly functional use or the area could be turned into a bumper boats attraction for the younger chilren for $15,000.

McAuliffe indicated that water usage for both the waterslide and the bumper boats is minimal.

Board Member Barbara Harrell requested an estimate of the revenue from such a facility and Fiascone indicated that approximately $177,000 could be generated based on 300 users per day during a 100-day season. This figure includes revenue generated from the slide, bumper boats, concession stand, coin operated lockers and game room.

Park board President the Rev. John Henry Williams responded enthusiastically to the presentation. "We wanted to build a swimming pool, but the cost was way out of reach. We deserve something here. We've worked hard for it," he stated.

"We can put this in reach of our residents' pocketbooks. They are now paying to go someplace else. I'm sure they would spend their money in Venice, if they had a choice," he added.

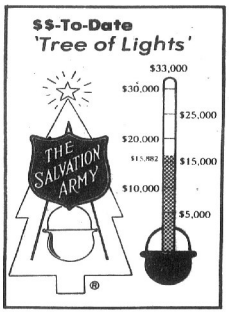

Rev. Williams invited Venice residents to work with Board Attorney Larry Hartman on an advisory committee to promote the facility and asked that all interested persons contact any park board member to volunteer.

In other discussion, board members voted to lay off three laborers and the maintenance foreman in an effort to reserve funds. Mrs. Harrell suggested the layoffs, which are effective Dec. 31, because the board needs the $1,500 being paid to these workers.

"We will rehire them when our invested certificates mature," she said, adding, "Right now, we just need the operating capital."

In a report to the board, Recreation Director Charles Collins invited all children between the ages of 6 and 12 to

Final appeal for Tree of Lights

By GEORGEANN McGEE
of the Press-Record

If Salvation Army Secretary Maxine Rutter had a wish for the Tree of Lights drive this year, it would be to collect enough money to include a sack of potatoes in each food basket. But her modest hope may not be attained, reflecting the difficult outlook for the Christmas basket applicants and for the fund campaign.

Captain Donald Salsbury rarely sees actual starvation in the Quad-Cities. The needy he assists are usually those with simply too small an income to live a healthy life. Those for whom job prospects and benefits have worn thin. Those for whom rent or house payments leave little room for clothes or food buying.

Food and monetary contributions are vitally important right now, Capt. Salsbury told the Press-Record on Friday. In less than ten days the distribution of food, clothing and toys will take place, and yet the Salvation Army has reached less than half its $33,000 Tree of Lights goal.

The captain's Army has a list of Man dies after bridge crash

Widely known here and in Missouri as band leader Gene Hoyer, a St. Louisan, Hugo Heuer, 78, died at 12:55 a.m. Friday, Dec. 10, 1982, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after becoming ill at 10:30 p.m. Thursday on the McKinley Bridge, Venice.

An inquiry will be conducted to determine the cause of death of Mr. Heuer, who resided at 6150 North Pointe, St. Louis.

His auto was westbound when toll booth collectors Terrance King and Gerald Corrie noticed him pass the toll area without paying. They told authorities he appeared to be having an attack of illness.

His car collided with guard rails on the bridge and the damaged vehicle came to a halt in the middle of the roadway, 100 yards west of the toll booth plaza.

The Venice police department and Campbell Ambulance Service were called to the scene and oxygen was administered by Venice police.

Initially, it was thought that Mr. Heuer, who was travelling alone, had suffered cardiac arrest.

Madison County deputy coroners indicated that Mr. Heuer was known to be

Legislature authorizes Chicago's World's Fair

The Illinois Legislature last week passed a bill establishing the "Chicago World's Fair — 1992 Authority Act," with members to be appointed by Governor James Thompson and Jane Byrne, mayor of Chicago, to promote a 1992 World's Fair in Chicago.

The authority will be a public corporation charged with financing, constructing and operating a universal category World's Fair in Chicago.

It was noted in the legislation that "the General Assembly hereby finds and declares that it shall benefit the people of the state of Illinois to host a World's Fair in 1992 to be located in Chicago, Ill., and to be in honor of the discovery of the Americas by Christopher Columbus in 1492, in order to celebrate six centuries of human invention..."

The City of Chicago and the state will be presented "to the world for the benefit, not only of the people of Illinois, but for the cultural, social, educational, scientific, intellectual, aesthetic, and economic edification of all the people of the world and for their enjoyment," should a World's Fair be conducted there in 1992.

Twelve directors are to be appointed by Mayor Byrne and 12 by Gov. Thompson with one director serving as chairman, to be appointed jointly by the governor and the mayor.

Rob youth in housing complex

Two youths told police that one of the pair was robbed at gunpoint and the second was beaten by two men wearing ski masks, who accosted them in the 4700 block of Kirkpatrick Homes, last week.

Donald J. Nagle, 16, of 4928 Redwood Lane, said he and a companion, Russell Pierson, 18, of 2808 Kirkpatrick Homes, were walking through the housing complex when two men wearing ski masks walked up, pulled on their arms and told the youths to keep walking.

One of the men said he had a .25-caliber automatic and Nagle said he felt some type of object pushed into his ribs. The two robbers forced the youths to separate and the man with the weapon allegedly escorted Nagle to the old cemetery near the housing area and took his wallet.

The robber, described as "skinny," about 5 feet, 7 inches tall and weighing 135 pounds, then searched Nagle's clothing and found a money bag containing $200, which he also took. Before leaving, the robber told Nagle to lie on the ground and not get up, or he would be shot, he told police.

The second assailant, also described as thin, about 5 feet, 9 inches tall and wearing a mustache, reportedly beat Pierson, who said he was unaware of what was happening to his friend in the cemetery.

Police are continuing to investigate the incident.

unemployed workers' families who on Dec. 22 and 23 will be given whatever food staples the local agency manages to purchase or receive in contributions.

The aim is to give recipients enough to prepare a bountiful and nutritious meal, not starkly limited holiday fare, as well as to provide other needed help.

Laid-off workers and others in meager situations present a challenge more than 1,101 strong this year.

The applications probably equal at least 3,000 individuals.

And many other cases go unnoticed or go uncounted as they are quietly helped by other individuals or groups.

Veteran worker Mrs. Rutter cannot remember a bigger demand, citing not only the national recession but also the low level of activity at several local industrial plants.

It is she who sifted through the list and line of applicants this month. She suggested an assembly-line distribution procedure to process more rapidly all the applications.

The big volume has forced the Salvation Army to replace its traditional grocery bag presentation. Now, recipients will bring their own containers and walk by a distribution line.

This year's typical applicant is a couple, a husband and wife, according to Mrs. Rutter.

They are relying on support from a part-time job or are unemployed. Frequently, it is the wife who has been able to find part-time employment.

The typical couple has one or two children.

"A lot of couples have bought a home or a car that they've paid on for a year or so and don't want to lose," Mrs. Rutter said. While the newly unemployed try to keep those hard-earned investments, they might find themselves left with only a $50-a-month food allowance, she said.

Some applicants are single and have been earning rent by helping their landlords, she said.

In addition to the Salvation Army's traditional aid to families at Christmas, Mrs. Rutter interviews and gives out aid to Quad-City needy families and individuals all year long, in coordination with governmental programs and with other local United Way community service agencies.

This Christmas, the average family applicant for the Tree of Lights program will receive two canned vegetables, canned fruit, a sack of chicken and other boxed or canned food commodities, depending on the size of the family. Those with children under 12 will be given one new toy and one used toy for each child.

Food, clothing and toy donations are being accepted at the Salvation Army Community Center, 2301 E. 23rd St., Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 until 5 p.m.

Fund contributions may be sent to: Salvation Army Tree of Lights, P.O. Box 338, Granite City, Ill., 62040. George Knecht, United Steelworkers of America staff representative, is chairman of the campaign.

1,101 apply for Christmas aid

A record-breaking 1,101 applications, representing thousands of family members seeking Christmas aid, were received by the local Salvation Army Corps prior to its deadline at 5 p.m. Friday, Maxine Rutter, Corps secretary, said today.

The number of applicants breaks all figures tallied in previous years, including a record total received about a decade ago when the former Union Starch and Refining Co. had a prolonged strike, it was learned.

Letters directing applicants when to pick up their yule baskets and related aid, either Dec. 22 or Dec. 23, are to be mailed Tuesday, Mrs. Rutter said.

Donations to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights, which finances the Christmas aid program for needy families, currently stand at $15,885. The figure is less than half of the $33,000 goal.

Contributions may be sent to: Salvation Army Tree of Lights, P.O. Box 338, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

At 11 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 16, the Corps will sponsor its traditional Christmas dinner for Golden Agers groups and other local senior citizens at the Salavation Army Community Center, 3007 E. 23rd St., Captain Donald Salsbury announced today.

Filing period ends today

Granite City and Madison independent aldermanic candidates have until 5 p.m today to file for the April 12 election.

Both cities must elect one alderman from each ward, and Granite City also will be electing a superintendent of streets.

Aldermanic candidates who have already filed in Granite City are; Alderman Everett Morlen, First Ward; Joseph McGinness, Second Ward; Alderman Paul Fisk, Third Ward; Alderman Warren Decatur, Fourth Ward; Lloyd Bailey and La Verna Corbitt, both for Fifth Ward; Alderman Walter Milton and Ross Halbrook, both for Sixth Ward alderman; and Alderman Michael Modrusic, Seventh Ward.

Incumbent Mac Warfield has filed for superintendent of streets, a position he was appointed to this year. No other candidates have picked up petitions for that office.

In Madison, independent aldermanic candidates who have filed include: Alfred Endicott and Frank Marsala, both First Ward; and Thomas George and James Riskovsky, both Second Ward.

Madison incumbents are expected to file next month, when the filing period opens for candidates running on a slate.

Enterprise Zone hearing in Venice

The first of a series of public hearings on a proposal by the Venice City Council to seek economic revitalization for the community through the Enterprise Zone Act will take place at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 14, in the council chambers at Venice City Hall.

The hearing will precede the regular council session, which will start at 8 p.m.

Prior to submitting an application for certification as an Enterprise Zone to the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, municipalities interested in attaining such status are required to conduct several public meetings and involve residents and local business leaders in the preliminary phase and overall program, Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols reported at the last council session.

The Enterprise Zone concept, enacted into law earlier this year, involves taking an area of distress and turning it into one that can support economic growth through a series of government and community actions on behalf of businesses.

Provisions for allowing tax incentives and state assistance in the formation of capital needed for growth are part of the enterprise concept, plus regulatory relief and special incentives, including the use of industrial development bonds.

The Department of Commerce and Community Affairs is to designate up to six zones a year in Illinois, based on applications that are submitted beginning Jan. 1, 1983.

Abduction suspect will be own lawyer

Don B. Anderson, 41, one of three suspects in the August abduction of Dr. and Mrs. Hector Zevallos, is making plans to serve as his own defense lawyer.

At a hearing in East St. Louis on Thursday, U.S. Magistrate Gerald Cohn refused to provide him with a court-appointed attorney, ruling that Anderson has sufficient funds.

The trio—from Texas and the Springfield, Ill., area—pleaded innocent to federal charges in connection with the abduction. The Madison County couple was released unharmed after eight days.

Court-selected attorneys were named for Wayne A. Moore, 18, and his brother, Matthew M. Moore, 20.

Anderson plans to seek access to law books and other materials to aid him in preparing his case.

At the arraignment, he told Cohn he had been robbed by the FBI and subjected to civil rights violations while in custody. He said $9,000 had dwindled to $8,100.

Bonds for the defendants remain at $1 million. The men are being held in Belleville.

They deny using violence or threats to interfere with interstate commerce, or conspiring to do so, and are to be placed on trial in Alton.

Madison County officials also hope to file state kidnaping charges for a trial in Edwardsville.

Q. Is there any way of tracing the existance of a savings account? One of my sisters died some time ago and although we're sure she had an account, we don't know where it was kept.

A. Many bank associations, in a number of states, have a standrad practice of regularly circulating lists of accounts which people are attempting to locate. Therefore, the chances of finding the account should be pretty good. It would help to know in what state or city she had the account or, lacking that, begin with the city in which she last lived. Write to the bank or banks within that city or state, and give as much information as you possibly can. Include your sister's name, social security number and her last address as well as your own name and address. It's a good idea to give the name the way you think it may have appeared on the account. Your local bank will be happy to give you information on where to write and whom to contact.

Man shot in foot in West Madison

A man was shot in a foot early Saturday in West Madison. Henry Pickett, 37, East St. Louis, was taken by ambulance at 4:15 a.m. to have the wound treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

A Madison Fifth Ward alderman, Donald Garrett, reported that shots had been fired at W. Second and Jackson streets at 3:25 a.m. Saturday. A potential suspect was later found walking along the street but did not have a gun.

Officers searched the area and found a revolver with five live rounds of ammunition still in it in the 1500 block of Market Street.

Next receiving a call that a man had been shot, Madison police went to the El Capalaro tavern at W. Second and Jackson and located Pickett. An investigation is continuing.

Burglars pushed a window air conditioner inside the Moose Lodge building at 19th and Adams streets and crawled through the opening to ransack the interior, it was reported at 7:20 a.m. Sunday by Virgil Singler, lodge secretary.

About $380 was taken along with two silver watches valued at $50.

The thief also stole a gallon jar, containing a large quantity of silver coins and currency, the money represented donations for a children's Christmas party, Singler said.

An attempt was made to pry open three coin-operated machines and an outside door to a storage area. An inventory is being taken to determine what other items may have been stolen.

Make student loan defaulters pay

Just as Quad-Cityans believe public employees ought to be among the first in line to pay taxes, U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy of Illinois is right in urging a crackdown on federal personnel who have not repaid Uncle Sam for their low-interest-rate college loans.

Percy and U.S. Education Secretary Terrel H. Bell announced last week that a computer match-up of federal employees and student loan defaulters showed that more than 46,800 current and retired U.S. employees have failed to pay $68 million on student loans.

"Sec. Bell has my enthusiastic support," Percy said at a joint press conference with Bell at the Department of Education. "The high priority he has placed on seeking repayment of these loans reflects this administration's determination to cut waste and fraud in federal programs. Every dollar collected is one more dollar that will be available to a future student who needs it."

Percy is the author of the Debt Collection Act, which was signed into law in October. Along with other provisions, it allows the U.S. to withhold 15 percent of a federal employee's salary as a means of collecting a defaulted loan. In the past, garnishment or setting off federal wages was prohibited.

Bell said his department will begin mailing letters to the defaulters, instructing them to work out repayment arrangements immediately. In Feburary, it will notify all federal agency heads of the individuals in their agencies who have failed to comply. Each agency head then will initiate action to bring the affected people into the repayment process.

Percy also noted that a preliminary computer match-up by the Veterans Administration detected 179,000 U.S. employees indebted to the VA for $138 million in overpayments. VA officials have told Percy that as a result of his legislation, they expect to collect $100 million over the next year.

"Most federal employees do repay their obligations and most student loan borrowers pay back their loans," Percy said. "Some borrowers who are in default are having severe financial hardships.

"However, those who are gainfully employed, especially those working for the government, must not be allowed to destroy these loan programs for the many borrowers who do pay their loans back, and those who will need loans in the future." We agree.

Thanks due upstream residents

It appears the crisis is past. The levees on Chouteau and Gabaret Island have held. The dozens of tired rescue workers and volunteers who have worked so hard to help protect the residents of the island can, at last, rest.

The islands did not flood, although it was close for a time. Predictions that the river level would top that of 1973 were wrong, fortunately.

Perhaps we benefited from someone else's misery. If the rivers upstream at Grafton, West Alton and other locations had not gone over their banks, the flood would undoubtedly have been much worse here.

The families of Chouteau and Gabaret islands should take a moment to sympathize with those who lost everything in the flood of 1982. Certainly, many of them are well aware of the distress that can occur during a flood. While the residents of this area can be relieved that our neighbors at Chouteau and Gabaret were spared, at the same time we must remember those upstream who are suffering greatly.

Now is the time for this area to join together and help those in need with contributions of any kind that are being accepted by organizations like the United Way and the Salvation Army for the flood victims.

And, now is the time to thank volunteer organizations and individuals who helped the Chouteau and Gaberet Island residents by providing food, support and countless hours. The efforts of sandbaggers there helped keep the floodwaters away. Their selfless assistance during the last week is a boost to the entire community.

Drug, drunk driving awareness

Competing with this week's holiday preparations is the statewide observance of Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week Dec. 12-18.

Of the 1,800 traffic deaths in Illinois in 1981, half involved accidents in which drivers' blood alcohol concentration exceeded the legal limit of .10 percent.

Many whose blood is tested here score well above that figure, and a national study has shown that most people arrested for drunken driving have a concentration approaching or topping .20 percent.

As Christmas and New Year's approach, the threat of intoxicated drivers is as great or greater than at any time of the year, justifying current efforts to focus attention on the topic.

The Illinois Department of Transportation is sending out public service announcements emphasizing the dangers of mixing drugs, drinks and driving.

Among the ways being suggested to protect against drunk or drugged drivers are to use auto seat belts, limit alcohol at parties, and encourage alternative transportation.

There are some who believe that fully a tenth of the autos passing a typical motorist are being operated by individuals unable to marshal adequate alertness and reflexes for their driving tasks.

Perhaps the best advice, as always, is to drive conservatively (and soberly) and to assume that all of the drivers of vehicles ahead, beside or behind may do something foolish and unexpected at any time. Defensive driving is not a total solution, but it can help a lot during Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week and throughout the holidays.

Barton editorial said what should be said

To the Editor,

Your editorial in the Dec. 2 Press Record exposes to the public what should have been aired before. Many of our generation fought in the deadliest war in history to guarantee to hundreds of millions the human precious rights of due process of law, including innocence until a jury of peers decides upon guilt without any reasonable doubts.

Apparently Jim Barton is an exception and is to be guilty before trial. Our self-righteous prosecutor, through unethical and unprofessional press releases, is denying Jim of his rights. Our Don Quixote states attorney may be confusing windmills and any Democrat who happens to fill any public office in Madison County.

Publically assuming guilt before public trial is reminiscent of the Red Coats Writs of Assistance against the colonists, Hitler's rigged courts and Stalin's political trials. In each, the accused was guilty and only was brought to court for the sentencing.

I am for Jim Barton and any other person in a democratic society guranteed inalienable rights. I am happy and proud to sign my name and be counted publically.

Members of the Press-Record editorial staff interviewed people at the Chamber of Commerce and asked them if they had spent as much this year on Christmas as in past years. Their reactions follow:

Alan Richardson, executive vice president

"I've tried to hold spending down, but to see the sparkle in the kid's eyes on Christmas morning it's worth it to spend a little more."

Jeanette Scannell, office manager

"I haven't spent as much, but I'm buying thins for the family that they really need instead of pleasure items."

Kim Harris, secretary

"I've spent more than I intended to, but not as much as I'd like to, but it will be worth it Christmas morning."

Billie Schuler, chamber member

"I'm not spending money this year like I have before. We've tried to make the small things important. Every morning we write down what we're thankful for; my son and I."

Student fee hikes being proposed

Four notices of proposals for student fee and charge increases at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were received Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees Action on the proposals will be considered by the trustees at their Feb. 10 meeting on the Edwardsville campus. The board is not scheduled to meet in January.

The fee and charge proposals include an increase of 35 cents for all students in the publications subfee of the student welfare and activity fee, to establish a sinking fund for equipment replacement at the student newspaper; a $1 across-the-board increase in the University Center fee; increased in the textbook rental fee by 50 cents, $1 and $2 in the respective hours categories of enrollment and an increase of $20 per single student per month in Tower Lake housing, and a corresponding percentage increase in family housing rates, effective Sept. 1, 1983.

The fee increases would be effective summer quarter, 1983. The recommended increases represent a total increase of $3.35 per quarter for a full-time student University officers said this would be a 3.4 percent increase over this year in mandatory student fees. No increases for Fiscal Year 1984 will be sought in other fees, including Student Activities Organizations, Student Government, Recreation, Legal Service, Student Medical Benefit, Programming subfees of the Student Welfare and Activity Fee and the Athletic Fee, a spokesman said.

University officers also pointed out that an increase of $6.50 originally was recommended for the University Center fee With the concurrence of the Student Senate, a number of measures recommended by the University Center Board and the director of the University Center were approved, reducing the need for a fee increase to $1. The measures include a reduction in working capital, steps to reduce operating expenses and improvments in the Food Service operation.

Increases in the cost of books were cited as the principal reason for the proposed increase in the textbook rental fee; operating cost increases and a reduction in retained tuition were cited as the major reasons for recommended increases in housing rental rates. Presently, single students living in two-bedroom, four-student units at Tower Lake Apartments pay $89 each per month.

Organization for Women will meet

Sarah Boswell, co-chairman of the state task force on reproductive rights for the National Organization for Women in Illinois, will speak at the Dec. 16 meeting of Tri-Cities NOW.

"We learned about legislation at the state and federal levels and discussed ways local chapters can become involved in this issue," she continued.

She said other reproductive health concerns are access to quality pre-natal care and ending sterilization abuse.

She said Illinois NOW is a member of the Illinois Pro-Choice Alliance which includes: the American Association of University Women, American Civil Liberties Union, American Jewish Congress, Women in Health task force of the American Medical Students Association, Illinois Women's Political Caucus, Mujeres Latinas en Accion, National Alliance of Black Feminists, National Council of Jewish Women, National Hook-Up of Black Women, Illinois Planned Parenthood and others dedicated to maintaining a woman's right to make decisions about her reproductive life free from government interference.

Bird count set

The Audobon Society will celebrate the 83rd anniversary of the original bird count taken by that organization on Saturday, Dec. 18. The first bird count was taken by the Audobon Society in 1900.

The local group is to meet at the Maryville state police headquarters, Illinois Route 159, at 8 a.m. Dec. 18. The count will be conducted in Madison and St. Clair counties until 4 p.m. Each car traveling the area to count birds will contain one bird guide who will have the expertise to identify the various species.

After the count, all participants are being invited to meet at Denny's Restaurant, Route 157, Collinsville, at about 5 p.m. Results of the count will be tabulated there.

The public is being invited to attend and the fee is $2 per person.

The annual event has grown from its initial 25 participants to include about 35,000 people, including those in the Canadian provinces, Central America and the United States. Each U.S. group involved in the count will cover 177 square miles.

Last year, 65 species were counted locally. The largest count was 212 in Santa Barbara, Calif. No species was identified at Star Island, Alaska, the farthest point north that is included in the count.

PARKED CARS LOOTED

At Granite Chrysler Plymouth, 19th Street and Grand Avenue, a thief removed 12-volt batteries from three used cars parked on the rear lot Thursday night.

HOME BURGLARIZED

A burglar who damaged doors of the Thebeau residence on Zippel Drive last week took rings valued at several thousand dollars, $250, a watch and jewelry items.

Car battery theft epidemic continues

Automobile batteries were stolen from three vehicles at separate Granite City locations, authorities were told Saturday.

Victims included Mrs. E. M. Arnovitz, 2107 Amos Ave., and Edward Piese, 59 Oaklawn Drive.

A battery belonging to Cheryl Fanning, 2229 Grand Ave., was reported stolen at 7 p.m. Saturday and then was recovered at 7:30 p.m. After officers talked with her, they found a man replacing a battery in a car in the 2200 block of State Street.

He said he had just purchased it for $5 from an unknown person, and was later to pay an additional amount. The battery matched the description and was returned to the owner.

DRIVER FACES DUI CHARGE IN MADISON

Halted by police at Fifth Street and Highland, she was released after posting $302 cash bail.

$29 million

The $5,392,404 negative amount in the budget is composed of shortfalls of $4,874,932 in education, $436,090 in the building fund and $85,852 in transportation, with a $4,470 excess in retirement fund revenue compared to expenses.

School officials said last week they are trying to achieve a break-even year in 1983-84, while simultaneously attempting to end their projected second-year tax borrowing of $1,700,000.

First-year operating debt of $6,700,000 is not expected to be dealt with in the coming year but eventually must be reckoned with. Interest costs alone are becoming a major budget item.

The potential $7 million target for reduction of 1983-84 costs takes into account the approximate budget imbalance of more than $5 million and the effort to eliminate second-year borrowing (anticipation of real estate taxes between one and two years before they are collected).

Students, parents, employees and taxpayers have taken intense interest in the board's deliberations and are attending the meetings in growing numbers.

Supt. Davis said at the conclusion of an executive session Dec. 7 that the board is looking at the possibility of closing schools at all three levels (grade school, junior high and high school) and also is studying eliminating some of the programs and services at buildings that will remain open.

Instructional offerings mandated by the state government will be continued along with the academic and vocational courses that the school system regards as essential to assure a good education for students of Community Unit School District Nine, the superintendent indicated.

Extensive job eliminations are seen as probable if the cost reduction approaches the $7 million figure.

Officials might back off from some of the cost-cutting plans that have been developed if they conclude that the effectiveness of the schools would be in jeopardy.

Nevertheless, they note that their loans have been growing each year, threatening not only a continuation of second-year borrowing but an expansion of such debt.

At some point, financial institutions or regional officials or state education authorities might seek to "call a halt" if the deficit continued to increase.

The district is not alone in encountering financial problems during the present economic recession.

Southern Illinois University decided Thursday to delay a scheduled three percent pay raise for employees from Jan. 1 until April 1. The April date also is uncertain if there are further cuts in funds from the state.

Alton schools decided last week to charge students to participate in extracurricular activities in 1983-84.

Legislators this month granted the governor power to trim $42 million from allocations for elementary and secondary schools and $20 million from universities and colleges.

The budget committee of the Illinois State Board of Education last week acted to implement the $42 million cutback—recommending a $26 million reduction in general school aid, elimination of an $11 million textbook sibsidy, a $3,500,000 cut in special education programs, a $900,000 reduction for adult and vocational education and programs for gifted pupils, and a $375,000 cut in biligual education funding.

The full State Board of Education on Thursday slightly changed its committee's proposal, instead recommending a $21 million cut in general school aid to the 1,016 Illinois districts and a $4,600,000 cut in the state's contribution to teachers' retirement funds.

First section of I-255 to open

The Illinois Department of Transportation has announced that the first segment of Interstate 255 from Illinois Route 15 to Interstate 64 will officially be opened to traffic on Tuesday, Dec. 14, in a ribbon-cutting ceremony. The public is being invited to attend.

The ceremony is scheduled to take place on the southbound I-255 bridge over I-64. Motorists wishing to attend the ceremony are to travel west on I-64 from Illinois 157 and follow signs to the parking area, which will be in the immediate vicinity of the ceremony.

The opening of this section of I-255 marks the beginning of a series of openings scheduled to take place in the next several years which will culminate in completion of the Illinois portion of the circumferential interstate routes around the bi-state St. Louis metropolitan area.

Oriental Band installs

One of Ainad Temple's Shrine Units, The Oriental Band, recently held their annual Christmas party and installation of officers at the Polish Hall in Madison. The band, consisting of many members from the Granite City area, is one of 39 units and 41 Shrine Clubs operating out of Ainad Temple in East St. Louis, all involved in Shrine work, supporting 21 orthopedic hospitals and three burn centers throughout North America.

The Oriental Band participates in parades and other activities in local communities and throughout southern Illinois. Annually, the band joins in competition with other Oriental bands at the Great Lakes Oriental Band Jamboree hosted by various Shrine Temples in the Great Lakes region.

This year, the jamboree was hosted by Zenobia Shrine Temple, Toledo, Ohio, where the local band was awarded second place in the large band division. In 1983, the jamboree will be hosted by Zorah Shrine Temple in Terre Haute, Ind.

Newly elected officers who were installed at the Christmas party are President, Art Smith, Fairview Heights; Vice-President, Darold Dickerson, Granite City; Treasurer, Richard Staggs, Granite City; Secretary, Ben Livingston, Granite City and Ed Groth of Belleville, band manager.

Bob Ashcraft of Granite City has been elected band director, and Glenn Bartling of St. Louis, and formerly of Granite City, will now be assistant director, after having been director for the past two and a half years.

Ben Livingston of Granite City, was nominated "Shriner of the Year" by the band.

Irvin Slate Jr. and Orville Hommert, both of Granite City, and members of Ainad Temple's Divan, the official body, were installing officers during the ceremony.

10 charges follow stop sign violation

A Venice man was apprehended by police there last week after he allegedly violated five stop signs and was charged with 10 various offenses.

Rodney Allen Jenkins, 26, of 52 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, was charged with five counts of disobeying a stop sign, driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor (DUI), illegal transportation of alcohol, unlawful use of a weapon, failure to possess a Firearm Owners Identification Card (FOID) and resisting a peace officer. He was turned over to Madison County authorities Wednesday morning.

Police on routine patrol stopped Jenkins at West Second and Jackson streets after allegedly observing him drive at a high rate of speed through stop signs at Circle Drive and Bissell Street, Third and Webster streets, Third and Jackson streets, Third and Franklin streets, and West Second and Jackson streets.

When Jenkins stepped from his vehicle, he allegedly stumbled and police noticed a strong smell of liquor on his breath. A minimum amount of force was necessary to place him in handcuffs, police said.

Upon searching Jenkins' vehicle, police allegedly found a loaded revolver under the seat, half-empty and empty cans of beer and an open half-pint bottle of liquor. As Jenkins was searched, he allegedly grabbed a police officer and ripped a button from his shirt. Both the officer and Jenkins fell to the floor and the struggle continued, police said.

Jenkins allegedly refused to get up from the floor after the struggle finished. Force was necessary to place Jenkins in a cell, police said. He allegedly called officers an obscene name and said he would get even with them.

Bill seeks limit on natural gas prices

U.S. Senator Alan J. Dixon (D.-Ill.) has co-sponsored emergency legislation to limit natural gas price increases this winter.

The bill, known as the "Temporary Natural Gas Market Correction Act of 1982," is a product of the Northeast-Midwest Congressional Coalition, on whose steering committee Sen. Dixon sits.

Sponsors said they would press for enactment in the "lame duck" session of Congress scheduled to end around Friday, Dec. 17. A hearing on the bill is scheduled in the Senate Energy committee on Dec. 13.

"Consumers in Illinois are facing increases of up to 60 percent in natural gas this winter," Dixon said. "For many of them, the 'eat or heat' option is a very real one. We have to do something in the short-term to head off these increases, and this bill takes a reasonable approach," he said.

The bill requires pipeline companies to provide the lowest price gas possible under existing law to their distribution companies. A pipeline company would have the contractural authority to refuse high-priced gas if less expensive gas is available under current contracts. Companies that do not provide the lowest cost product would be subject to fraud and abuse sections of the Natural Gas Policy Act. (Some pipelines are currently locked into contracts requiring them to take high-priced gas even when lower cost gas is available.)

"Many of these contracts were signed five years ago, when there was a shortage of natural gas," Dixon said. "Now, there is a glut of natural gas and the price in the marketplace is down, but consumers are paying ever-higher prices to heat their homes."

The bill is a temporary measure. It would go into effect 15 days after being signed into law and would expire Nov. 1, 1983.

Sponsors expect consumers would see relief in their bills by March or April, if the bill were passed. It would include retroactive provisions to address this winter's bills.

Zoning board submits recommendations

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has submitted two local recommendations to the Madison County Board for consideration at its next meeting at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The zoning board favors approval of a petition filed by Harry L. Childs, who has requested rezoning of property in Chouteau Township, extending between Old Route 66 and Interstate 270.

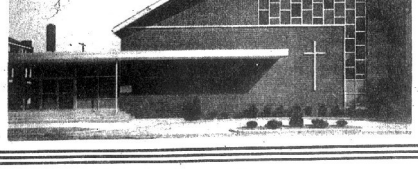

Childs wants it rezoned from agricultural to general manufacturing to use the site for a contractor's office and shop—including equipment storage, repair and sale—and for use as an office building.

The zoning board has recommended that Pamela M. Cruse be granted a special use permit in order to place a mobile home in a single-family residential district of Chouteau Township near 5001 Lakeview Drive.

Wood River defeats lackluster Warriors 54-34

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

WOOD RIVER — No matter how good a team's defense or rebounding may be, if that team can't shoot, it will lose. And they'll look bad in the process.

That's exactly what happened to Granite City South in its 54-34 loss to Wood River Saturday in a non-conference basketball game.

Warrior coach Don Deterding was extremely pleased with his team's defense and rebounding. He was unhappy about South's shooting ability with good reason. The Warriors only made 15 of 60 shots from the field for 25 percent.

"I was very proud of the way we worked on defense and our rebounding because those were the areas we had the most problems with all season, but when you don't shoot well, you don't look good as a team," Deterding said.

"We just can't play a complete game," Deterding said. While being interviewed after the game, the frustration Deterding was feeling was obvious.

Prior to the interview, he looked into a door leading away from the gymnasium with a long silence.

"You know you can chew out a player if he don't hustle down the court or if he doesn't get physical, but you can't chew him out if he can't hit. There's not much you're going to do about it other than shoot a lot in practice," Deterding said.

"You can't fault them because these kids are trying, and they gave a supreme effort. Barry Grote was in tears after the game," he added.

Despite South's poor shooting performance, the Warriors were in the game through the third quarter. Wood River had difficulties setting up good shots against South's defense, and the Warriors controlled the boards.

South, trailing 26-18 at halftime, cut the Oilers' margin to two with baskets by John Linhart, Brain Pithers and Pat Linhart to open the third quarter.

Instead of capitalizing on the advantage Wood River gave them, the breaks failed to go South's way. The Oilers picked up 13 unanswered points in the remaining minutes of the quarter and jumped to a 39-24 lead.

"Obviously, we had chance to take the lead, but we didn't get the breaks at that point and they started scoring again," Deterding said.

Granite South Warriors

Wood River coach Darrell Burd had a different explanation for the Oilers' surge in the middle of the third period.

"Our depth helped us overcome the problems we had earlier in the game," Burd said. "Dave Liley and Dave Wooten came off the bench and gave us a shot in the arm. We just had to shake up the line-up a little."

Prior to the spurt, Burd admitted the Oilers had problems with South's defense. "I felt we weren't running the patterns and not moving the offense. Those two came off the bench and gave us a second breath, and we played some good basketball from that point on," he said.

"Granite South's got a good, aggressive defense. We played a little flat in the first half, and we weren't very physical inside," Burd said.

In the second half, the game became very physical. Players from both sides fought for position inside, and eventually, Dennis Garkin of South and Bill Dahlen were both ejected from the game with flagrant technical fouls with 19 seconds left in the game. Both were involved in a shoving match after a foul on Dahlen.

"Our defense was excellent, and so was our rebounding," Deterding said. "The shots were there, but we just couldn't make anything."

Brian Hendricks and Mike King led a balanced scoring attack for the Oilers with 11 points each. Pat Linhart led South with 15 points.

The Oilers had 48 rebounds compared to 35 for South, but many of Wood River's rebounds came late in the game after the momentum turned to the Oilers.

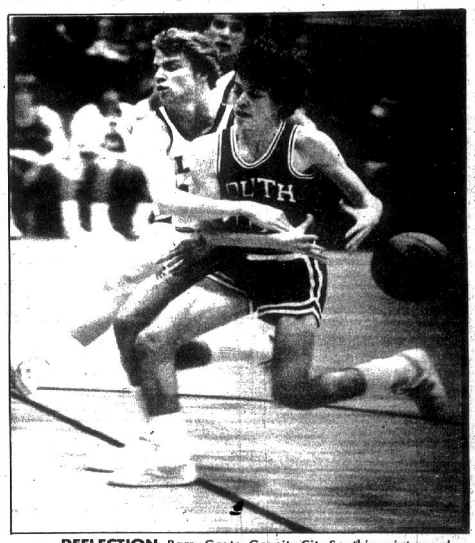

South, 0-6 for the season, plays Gateway East Conference games with Edwardsville on Friday and with Cahokia on Saturday. Both games will be at the South gym.

South's junior varsity lost 60-50, and Jim Hillmer led South with 18 points.

Cahokia manhandles Steelers 72-38; now 0-4

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

CAHOKIA — Granite City North found out how hard it is to win if you can't make the easy shots early in a basketball game.

The Steelers got some good inside shots early in its Gateway East Conference game Friday at Cahokia, but North didn't score on some of those and lost a 72-38 decision to the Comanches.

"We haven't been shooting well all year," North coach Bill Ohlendorf said. I was sort of skeptical of our ability to put the ball in at the beginning of the season.

The turning point of Friday's game was the first four minutes of the game. North had many chances inside in those initial minutes, but could only put six points in the entire quarter.

As it turned out, Cahokia went on to take a 14-6 lead at the end of the quarter and the Comanches' lead continued to expand.

"If we would have put three to five of those shots in basket early, we could have been easily been ahead 12-6 instead of tied," Ohlendorf said. "You hate to say the turning point of the game was so early, but it was in this game.

After that, it was simply no contest. Cahokia outscored the Steelers 18-8 in the second quarter, 15-10 in the third and 25-14 in the final quarter to widen the gap.

In fact, the Comanches managed to get a 39-point advantage on the Steelers with 2:41 left in the game before the Steelers put a scoring string together.

The loss, which pushed the Steelers down to 0-4 on the season, had Ohlendorf trying to find the reasons for North's lack of cohesiveness.

"It doesn't matter too much if you can play good defense or rebound well, if you can't shoot, you're not going to win. We haven't been shooting very well all season," Ohlendorf said.

Sophomore Scott Cant was the only Steeler in double figures with 10 points. Steve Tritschuh, North's top scorer before last Friday, failed to score.

"I thought our defnese played an outstanding game," Cahokia coach Ken McBride said. "We had a lot of people coming in and helping us out a lot."

The player who has proven to be the most help to the Comanches, 3-0 on the season, is Randy Goodwin. The senior scored 16 points for the game and is proving to be a strong all-around player for Cahokia.

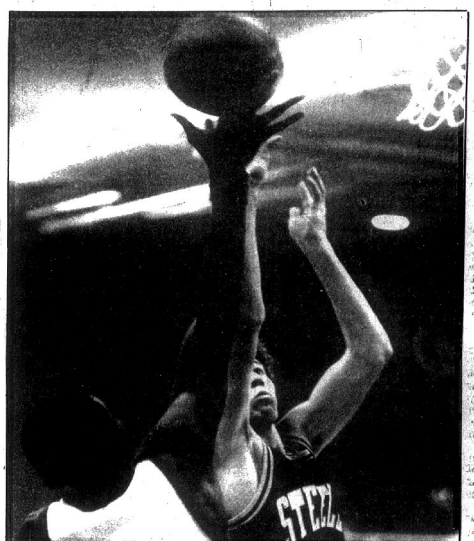

"He's one of the best overall players in the area, Not only does he get a lot of points, he gets a lot of rebounds and assists. He's pretty impressive," McBride said.

Meanwhile, Randy Goodwin's cousin, Jerry, scored 12 points. The remainer of the Cahokia roster contributed to a balanced scoring attack.

"It's nice to be undefeated when you have an inexperienced team like ours," McBride said. "We can go with a man-to-man offense and we come up with five to seven people who can do the job effectively."

In the junior varsity game, Cahokia defeated North 58-45. Derek Merz scored eight points to lead North in a losing cause.

North travels to Collinsville Friday for a non-conference game and hosts Althoff Saturday in a GEC game.

Cardinals turnover victory to Washington 12-7

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

ST LOUIS — It was one of those classic football games where the team that dominates statistically didn't win the game. Such was the case here Sunday afternoon as Cardinals lost their third game of this abbreviated season to the Redskins 12-7.

The Cardinals mustered an impressive 356 yards total on offense — 131 rushing, 225 passing — Washington had 292 yards total. St. Louis completed more first downs — 19 to 18. The Cardinals were more effective on third down as well converting five of nine for 56 percent while the pride of the nation's capital converted six of 14 for 43 percent.

Why then with the game having all the makings of a St. Louis victory did the Cardinals come up short? Turnovers and missed opportunities. Plain and simple.

For openers, the Cardinals' Stump Mitchell returned Jeff Hayes punt following Washington's first possession the length of the field for a touchdown. As hard luck would have it, Carl Allen was cited for illegal use of hands. The play was called back.

The Cardinal's Ottis Anderson responded with a gallop of his own that gained 64 yards which eventually set up a Neil O'Donoghue 26 yard field goal attempt. O'Donoghue, who is usually a dead shot from within the 30, missed wide to the right. That, however, was only the first of a chain of events which would defeat the Cardinals.

The Cardinals also had problems holding on to the football. St. Louis fumbled three times and lost all three. Washington fumbled twice, once out of bounds and again when St. Louis recovered.

The Cardinal turnovers could not have come at more opportunistic times, for Washington. The first Cardinal turnover came in St. Louis' first possession of the second quarter.

The Cardinals were moving the ball well, as well as they had against both Atlanta and Philadelphia. Cardinal quarterback Neil Lomax engineered the Cardinals from their own 18 yard line to Washington's 16. On third and one, Lomax was sacked by Washington linebacker Larry Kubin. The ball spurted loose and the Redskins recovered to stymie the offensive.

St. Louis' second turnover was again committed in enemy territory. Just two possessions later Lomax completed two passes, one to Mitchell and another to Pat Tilley, to threaten. On a first and 10 situation, Anderson, attempting to run right, fumbled. Blitzing linebacker Mel Kaufman scooped up the loose ball.

The final Cardinal turnover of the afternoon came in St. Louis' first possession of the third quarter. It too, was committed on Washington's half of the turf. Wayne Morris, who normally has hands Brinks would trust with grandma's savings, fumbled on Washington's 29 yard line. Washington's Neal Olkewicz was the third Redskin linebacker to recover a Cardinal fumble.

Cardinal coach Jim Hanifan summed up the game best.

"I think we beat ourselves out there today," Hanifan said. "We can't miss four scoring opportunities in the first half like we did and expect to win."

Despite the loss, Hanifan saw reason for optimisim.

"Washington has an excellent offense. Our defense kept them out of the endzone all afternoon," Hanifan said.

Although Washington and quarterback Joe Theismann never did penetrate the endzone, Redskin place kicker Mark Moseley booted four field goals, one each quarter, to pace Washington to the victory.

St. Louis only tally came in the final quarter after Hanifan replaced Lomax with back up quarterback Jim Hart.

Hart took control at the Cardinal's own 37 yard line. Completing a series of four first downs, and passes to Tilley and Mike Schumann, Hart engineered the Cardinals to the five yard line before he connected with Greg LaFleur in the endzone.

Hart nearly put the Cardinals in the lead with his pass with his second and 10 pass attempt to Tilley in the endzone. With just six seconds remaining on the clock, Hart threw one of those "Hail Mary" tosses in the endzone, reminiscent of the 1975 toss to Mel Gray which defeated Washington with five seconds remaining.

This time, however, it's 1982, the Cardinals are seldom referred to as the Cardiac Cards and Mel Gray was not in the game. The Cards came up empty.

"It was a calculated gamble," Hart said afterwards. "I know the chances of completing the pass were slim, but we had no other alternatives. We nearly pulled it off."

Hart's performance had a humbling affect on Lomax.

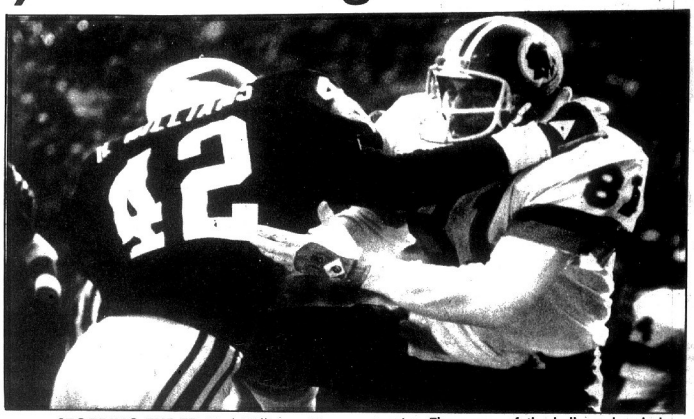

"It's exciting to see Hart work like that," Lomax said. "He did something I couldn't do...he's a great veteran. He did a masterful job," Lomax said.

Prior to Hart's entering the game, fans were booing Lomax. When asked about the fans reaction when Hart replaced him in the fourth quarter Lomax said, "I don't want to say anything about that. I'm too young to make comments like that."

What did Hanifan think about the quarterback situation?

"Neil will continue to be our quarterback. The future of the Cardinal organization lies with Neil. I never said Jim Hart is not a darn good quarterback."

The Cardinals travel to Chicago next Sunday to take on the Bears. Game time is noon.

STOPPING THE TD. Herb Williams, 42, of the St. Louis Cardinals grabs Art Monk of the Washington Redskins in the end zone to prevent Monk from scoring a touchdown in the second quarter. The corner of the ball can barely be seen behind Monk. Despite Williams' efforts, Mark Moseley kicked a field goal, and Washington won 12-7.

Trojans stymie Pinckneyville for second win

MADISON — Larry Graham's Madison High School basketball Trojans made it two in a row Friday night with a 72-44 victory over the Pinckneyville Panthers. The Trojans are now 2-1, while the Panthers fell to 1-3.

Madison was clearly the dominate force in the contest, but Graham stopped short of saying Madison totally dominated.

"I thought we were more aggressive," Graham said. "But I wouldn't say it was a blowout."

Although the Trojans won by 28 points, the game, until the final quarter, was closer than the final score would indicate, he said.

"Going into the fourth quarter," Graham said, "we were leading by just nine points, 51-40. We just put it all together in the final quarter," Graham said.

Put it all together is just what Madison did.

The Trojans allowed Pinckneyville just four points in that final quarter, while racking up a quarter high 21 points.

One reason Madison had such a fine showing was senior Victor Valentine. Valentine poured in a total of 16 points for Trojans. It was his best effort of the season.

"Victor had a good game for us," Graham said. "He hasn't been real consistent but when he does play well he can score some points."

Another Trojan who has been pleasantly surprising Graham in the team's last two outing is Keith Wyatt. Wyatt managed 13 points for Friday for the Madison cause.

"Keith's playing above expectation right now," Graham said. "There's no one more happy about the whole thing than I," Graham said. "He's really shaping up to be a super center."

This Tuesday, Dec. 14, Madison takes on Assumption at home. Action begins at 6:30 p.m.

South grapplers split weekend pair

On Friday, the Warriors edged Parkway 30-23 in what South coach Bill "Red" Schmitt called "definite Seam effort."

Saturday, against Francis Howell, the Warriors were less fortunate. The Missouri state champions proved too strong for the fledging Warrior mat squad as South trailed 41-27.

"No we didn't expect to win against Francis Howell," Schmitt said. "I did expect a presentable showing though. Beyond that, I won't say much else," Schmitt said.

Friday against Parkway in the 98 pound weight class, Jeff Cotter won by forfeit.

At 107 pounds Darrin Singleton lost to Hsiang-Liaw 7-0.

At 112 pounds, Sean McGovern defeated Brian White 9-0.

Tom Sparks pinned Parkway's Mark Roux in the 119 pound category in 1:49.

Joe DeShon, wrestling at 126, defeated John Stanec 10-2.

Jeff Hoese lost to Fred Montgomery 7-2 in the 132 pound weight class.

At 138 pounds, South's Mike Fenoglio was pinned by Rob Mudd in 3:37.

At 145 pounds, Tracy McElroy was pinned by Vince Stanec in 3:42.

Mark Dowdy, wrestling in the 115 weight class, lost a decision to Chuck Loughter 7-4.

South's Jon Frangoulis defeated Dan Neiman 7-0 in the 165 pound class.

South's Dave Brown and Terry Flynn managed the only tie of the evening as each wrestled to a nine all draw.

Heavyweight Paul Hitchcock won by forfeit.

The following afternoon, against Francis Howell, South's Cotter picked up his second win of the weekend as he pinned David Dix in 5:28.

At 107 pounds Singleton was pinned by David Henson in 22 seconds.

At 112 pounds, South's McGovern was pinned by Chuck Henson in 3:40.

South picked up its second win of the afternoon when Sparks decisioned Bryan Schmidt 19-2.

In the 126 pound weight class, DeShon was pinned by Gary Wolf in 3:16.

At 132, Hoese defeated Howell's Jeff Allen by default.

South forfeited the 138 pound class.

At 145 pounds, McElroy was pinned by Mike Boch in 3:50.

South picked up its fourth win of the afternoon in the 155 pound class as Dowdy defeated Lyle Bruning 9-4.

At 167, Frangoulis pinned Dave Sanders in 4:58.

South's Brown lost to Dwight Downs by default.

South's heavyweight Hitchcock pinned Jim Cooper for his second win of the weekend in 4:39.

Reorganization at SIUE continues

Three additional steps in the administrative reorganization of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were announced last week by President Earl Lazerson.

The president said the Central Affirmative Action Office will be merged administratively with the Office of University Personnel Services, the campus recreation program will be transferred from the Office of Development and Public Affairs to the Office of Academic Affairs and Student services, and student programming functions will report to the Office of Academic Affairs and Student Services instead of the University Center. Dean of Students Dan Doelger will have responsibility for the recreation program an student programming, as well as student activities.

The steps are effective immediately. They are the latest in a series of measures which the administration has implemented in the past two year in an effort to "improve coordination and communication among functional areas, articulate institutional objectives, reduce operating costs, expand centralized planning and resource management, and remove inappropriate competition among units."

Lazerson said Benjamin F. Quillian, formerly director of the Central Affirmative action Office, will become assistant diregor of Personnel Services, with general administrative oversight of the Affirmative Action Program. Day-to-day operations of he program will be the responsibility of Coral Rice, who has been a coordinator in the Affirmative Action Office. The president said Quillian will assume a range of new duties supporting the general functions of the Office of Personnel Services.

The transfer of the campus recreation program to the Office of Academic Affairs and Student Services was recommended by the Intercollegiate Atletics-Recreational Task Force. The president said he concurs with the recommendation because the recreation program is directed toward general student activities, "promoting student satisfaction with the institution and bolstering our ability to retain students."

Lazerson said the transfer of student programming functions to the jurisdiction of the dean of students is a further indication of the importance the aministration places on student affairs. He said the move will have the effect of placing all student-related activities together under a single line of administrative responsibility, strengthening planning and executive coherence and recognizing the importance of this aspect of the university's operations.

Quillian, who has been associated with SIUE on a continuing basis since 1973, was named university affirmative action officer in 1978. A native of St. Louis, he received a master's degree in educational administration from SIUE in 1970 and completed his doctorate in social relations in education at Washington University in St. Louis in 1977. He became a faculty member with SIUE's Delinquency Study and Youth Development Cener in 1973 and now has the academic rank of associate professor.

Prior to his association with SIUE, Quillian's professional experience included three years as an elementary school teacher in St. Louis and a year as assistant director of admissions and financial aids at Washington University. He also has been acting director of the St. Louis Urban Corps Program and worked sa a researcher for Central Midwestern Regional Education Laboratory's National Program of Early Childhood Education.

JEWELRY JOTTINGS
By RUSS WALKER

With gold, the term "carat" is a measure of quality, not weight. Pure gold is defined as "twenty-four carat" gold. If, for example, the gold is 18/24 pure gold, it is called "eighteen carat" gold.

Most gold pieces are alloyed to make the metal harder and wear longer. Let us advise you on exquisite gifts crafted of gold, sure to be appreciated.

Secretaries hear hospital employee

Mrs. Reidyth Johnson, a secretary in the Public Relations Department of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, was the featured speaker at a meeting of the Granite City High School South Chapter of Future Secretaries Association.

She was introduced by Paula Mathenia, vice-president, and prior to her presentation, folders containing several print-outs on such topics as telephone manners, job loyalty and humerous secretarial poems, were distributed to the members.

Mrs. Johnson told the group that being a secretary is a lot of fun, but also requires a lot of work and preparation. She said being a secretary is a real occupation and it is not meant to be a stepping stone to bigger things, it is an occupation in itself.

The guest speaker told the members they should enjoy their job, they should find a job that they would work for free, if they did not need the money, "It is always good to know that the boss cannot function quite as well without you as when you are there," Mrs. Johnson concluded.

President Sherry Zigler opened the business segment at which time reports were given by Laura Shanks, recording secretary and Dana Evans, treasurer.

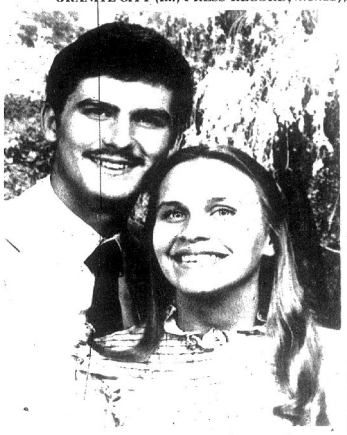

A Christmas party will highlight the next meeting according to the president. Angie Durborow volunteered to serve as committee chairman for the seasonal event.

As a way of earning extra points, the members made stuffed candy canes that will be used as stocking stuffers at a Christmas party at the Madison County Shelter Care Home, hosted by the sponsoring organization the Tri-Cities Chapter of Professional Secretaries International.

Five cheese give-away points this week

Free cheese will be given away Thursday and Friday at five Quad-City distribution points, according to local officials coordinating the effort.

A total of 8,500 pounds of cheese will be given away in the cities of Granite City, Madison and Venice and to Nameoki Township residents on Thursday.

In Chouteau Township only, the cheese distribution will not begin until Friday.

Cheese will be issued on a first come, first-served basis, only to those with proof of residency in the various municipalities.

Proof of indentification and address will be required, such as a driver's license, a voter's registration card or a current utility bill. One five-pound box of cheese will be issued per household.

In Nameoki Township, 1,500 pounds will be distributed beginning at 8:30 p.m. Thursday at the State Park Community Center, State Park Place, and the Nameoki Town Hall, 4250 Highway 162. Township Supervisor Harry Briggs warned that the cheese allotment is usually gone by 9 a.m.

In Venice, 2,500 pounds of cheese will be available starting at 9 a.m. Thursday at the Venice Township Office, 1505 Fifth St., Venice. Cheese will be distributed only to senior citizens and those with annual incomes of less than $9,000. Proof of those conditions will be necessary.

About 2,000 pounds of cheese will be distributed in Madison at the Dunbar-Johnson Community Service Center, W. Third and Jackson streets, Madison. The distribution will start there at 8:30 a.m. Thursday.

In Granite City, distribution of 2,500 pounds of cheese will begin at 9 a.m. Thursday at the Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Center, 1800 Kirkpatrick Homes.

In Chouteau Township, distribution will begin on Friday at 9 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. at the Chouteau Township Social Center, 697 N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell. If any cheese is left over, it will be distributed Monday, Dec. 20.

The cheese will be given to Chouteau residents who are considered to be in the low-income bracket, as judged by township officials. It will be necessary to fill out a card with the applicant's name, address and approximate income. Persons making the request must be the head of the household or spouse, and Chouteau Township residency verification is required.

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission said the December allotment for the county is about 33,600 pounds. The commission receives the cheese from the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), which has announced it will extend the cheese give-away program until December 1983.

The dairy products are bought under the federal dairy price support program. Currently the USDA is holding in committeed inventory about 800 million pounds of cheese valued at $1.2 billion and about 400 million pounds of butter worth $640 million.

Grant to Red Cross to help flooding victims

Officers of the United Way and the Federal Executive Board have announced an emergency allocation of $50,000 to the St. Louis Bi-State Chapter of the American Red Cross, to be used to aid storm and flood victims in Missouri and Illinois.

Funds for the emergency grant were contributed by federal employees in the bi-state area during the recent Combined Federal Campaign. This special allocation was approved by the United Way's Executive Committee.

The allocation will be used by the red Cross to fund its current disaster relief activities in those parts of the bi-state St. Louis area affected by recent storms and flooding.

The announcement was made at a news conference Thursday by Lawrence K. Roos, chairman of the United Way's Board of Directors, Sidney M. Ford, chairman of the Federal Executive Board, and John Mackey, chairman of the St. Louis Bi-State Chapter of the Red Cross. Roos added that the emergency sum is in addition to more than $2,400,000 allocated by the United Way to the Red Cross for its year-round operations in the area in 1983.

In accepting the grant, Mackey noted that "this immediate and vitally important emergency allocation reflects the community commitment and concern of thousands of St. Louis area federal employees and the United Way, and provides valuable support to the Red Cross in its continuing efforts to serve the victims of this disaster with food, clothing and emergency shelter."

Betsy Brantley enjoys star treatment

By ALAN L. GANSBERG

HOLLYWOOD — To play the key role of a girl obsessed by a love for an older man in the new feature "Five Days One Summer," director FRED ZINNEMANN chose an unknown — BETSY BRANTLEY, an American whose very few professional jobs to date have all been in Britain, where she has been studying acting and working for several years.

So new was Betsy to professional work that her biggest credit was three months in the London company of "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas," which wasn't even a hit overseas.

But the experience has proved to be a good one for Betsy, who has turned into a mountain-climbing enthusiast after working in the Swiss Alps for three months, and is now getting a taste of the star treatment in her home country.

"They don't prepare you for the interviews and the fuss in acting school," she laughed.

Raised in North Carolina, where her father is an executive for a dress-manufacturing company, Betsy wears the dresses her father gives her, "because we have a deal. I'll wear the dresses; he'll give them to me for free. It's a promotion for him."

And although she insists she's an American through and through and misses the "sunshine and the summer here," Betsy hopes to make London her base as an actress, at least for now.

"I love London, but I also like the English attitude toward actors," she insists. "People are people there and they just happen to act. No one is a star. I'd rather have London as a base, but that doesn't mean you have to live and work there all year round."

Her first big acting job in "Five Days" turned out to be an exceptionally fine one. Star SEAN CONNERY and Betsy worked well together. She fell in love with the beauty of her surroundings and with the film itself.

"This is a beautiful piece of work," she said of the picture. "There's a lot of silence in the film. The director wanted the mountains to impose their silence and their power."

She has learned the power of mountains. After working so hard on a film in which much of the action takes place on mountains, Betsy celebrated the New York premiere of her first major effort by traveling to Ecuador to climb Mount Cotopaxi, the world's highest active volcano.

But with "Five Days" under her belt, Hollywood itself may prove an easier climb.

RICHARD KLINE, who plays Larry the upstairs neighbor on ABC's "Three's Company," has tied the knot for the second time. The lucky bride is SANDRA MALLOY, whom he met when she was in real estate. Sandra took Richard around to see some houses and eventually love blossomed and she moved in.

He may not be on "The Dukes of Hazzard," but TOM WOPAT doesn't want to be forgotten. He has just signed a recording deal with Columbia Records and will be singing country tunes from Nashville.

It appears that CHRISTOPHER ATKINS likes to take his clothes off in front of the cameras — or at least he's been told to give the women what they want. In his next film, "Ladies' Night," Chris will play a college student moonlighting as a male stripper.

The "Return of the Man from U.N.C.L.E." telefeatue for CBS is finally getting off the ground. ROBERT VAUGHN and DAVID McCALLUM will reprise their roles. PATRICK MACNEE plays the part originally portrayed by LEO G. CARROLL — Mr. Waverly.

CBS also plans a "Leave it to Beaver" TV movie, but has passed on a "Room 222" reunion after hemming and hawing for three years. Is this logic? Someone should write to CBS and ask them why they don't think "Room 222" is worthy of a return glance by the curious viewers. It was, after all, a groundbreaking series.

Is Brando worth all those bucks?

By JACK MARTIN

HOLLYWOOD — Marlon Brando must have created some sort of Guinness record for collecting nearly $19 million for his 10-minute appearance in "Superman I." Here's the story.

The actor was originally paid just over $3 million as his salary for playing one of the silliest roles in film history, namely Superman's father.

In the short sequence at the beginning of the movie Brando and British actress Susannah York prepare their baby for launching into space, away from their dying planet of Krypton. As the mite speeds toward earth, Mr. and Mrs. Superman Sr. are blown up with their world.

Well, those of you who may have gasped at the size of Brando's salary at the time will be a lot more alarmed to hear the latest development concerning his financial rewards from the movie. He has just been awarded — following some very nasty legal threats — a further $15 million, a nifty sum which represents 11.3 percent of the gross takings of the box office, which was part and parcel of his original "Superman" deal — in addition to the $3 million salary, of course.

So, all told, that comes to just a Rolls-Royce or three under $19 mil.

This sum seems to dwarf what Brando was paid for his even briefer role in "Apocalypse Now" for which he received, in comparison, a paltry $4 million. With all these riches rolling in, no wonder the corpulent superstar (he now weighs over 300 pounds) spends most of his time snoozing in a reinforced hammock under a banyan tree on his private island in Tahiti — working, when awake, on his memoirs which, I'm reliably informed, he keeps in the fridge.

CHRISSIE COURTS HOLLYWOOD: Tennis great Chris Evert Lloyd is turning her considerable attentions toward show business — she wants to star in a movie based on her life story.

The gent putting the deal together is Ron Samuels, estranged husband of Wonder Woman Lynda Carter. Ron and Lynda, when they were Mr. and Mrs., were close pals of Chris and John Lloyd. Now Samuels has signed Chris to a management contract — he says she has all the potential of becoming "a first-rate actress."

But Hollywood cynics are already sniffing at her lack of acting ability and British star Jeremy ("Brideshead Revisited") Irons is not expected to exactly jump at Samuels' idea that he should play John Lloyd in the TV film which will "hopefully" shoot sometime next year.

HOUSE CALLS: Victoria Principal, the marginally talented star of "Dallas," is said to be all atwitter over Beverly Hills surgeon Dr. Harry Glassman.

Close pals confide that Glassman's the "biggest" thing in her life since the diminutive Australian singer Andy Gibb.

Also on the medical-romantic front comes the news that Peter Seller's widow (that MERRIEST of widows), Lynne Frederick, also finds herself enamored of a Beverly Hills (well, just outside) practitioner named Dr. Harry Longer.

Lynne, however, is not giving all her attentions to the good doctor. She's been closeted of late with lawyers because of what she considers to be "the tasteless exploitation" of her late husband in the upcoming "The Trial of the Pink Panther." The movie, once again directed by Blake Edwards, has a star-studded cast, including David Niven, Robert Wagner, etc., and tells the story of the legendary Inspector Clouseau's disappearance with old clips used as flashback's of the detective's life.

Lynne, it seems, is worried that the clips were chopped out of the original Panther pictures because they were second-best.

GHOSTLY GOODBYE: Sybil Leek, who once described herself as "just an ordinary witch," has died in Florida of cancer, aged 65.

Mrs. Leek, a very nice witch indeed, was the author of more than 60 books on the occult, the mystical and the supernatural.

Sybil (often said to be a "show-biz witch") once told me that her family had been in the witchcraft business since 1134 ("It's to do with the glands and the nervous system") and this dynastic tradition turned her into more than just an ordinary witch. It made her a Druid.

"Witches are the working class, dear. Druids are the royalty."

A regal lady indeed.

BOTTOM LINE: Kitty Kelley, the red-hot author of the red-hot paperback, "Elizabeth Taylor: The Last Star," has picked out her next subject. Who else? Frank Sinatra.

I asked Kitty how much she's getting.

"One million dollars," she replied, "AND an Adolpho suit to be laid out in."

And she's not kidding!

Jim Hartz

By DON FREEMAN

Jim Hartz, whose speech retains more than a few residual pinfeathers of his Oklahoma origins, was talking about a fellow Oklahoman named Will Rogers.

"Will made this comment when so many Okies began leaving Oklahoma for California: Will said it raised the IQ of both states."

And with that Jim issued a pleasantly reassuring grin that was familiar to viewers of the "Today" Show in the mid-1970s and is now an integral part of PBS's highly honored and superbly produced "Over Easy."

Hartz is out of Tulsa, where his father was a minister in the Fundamentalist Assembly of God Church. Attending the University of Tulsa with notions of becoming a doctor, Hartz found work in a local radio station to pay the bills. And there he learned his rightful calling.

He became a disc jockey on the radio but there was this worrisome thing about making up words to say between records. This difficulty he solved by moving over to television where in time he would become a most articulate newscaster. Along the way, he attempted scrupulously to divest himself of Southwestern regionalisms.

"I had to get rid of certain colloquialisms I had grown up with in Oklahoma," Jim was saying the other day at lunch, which was preceded by a martini or two. "I had to learn to say 'penny' instead of 'pinny,' for a good example."

Someone roaming the hinterlands spotted Jim Hartz on the air, deemed him a budding talent worthy of further inspection and soon he was lured off to New York. Jim was then 23 and at once he was anchorman on the 11 o'clock news on WNBC, the NBC station serving the Apple.

We were talking about accents and Jim remembered when everybody in broadcasting was trying desperately to imitate David Brinkley's crisp, oddly accented delivery. "David," says Jim, "still has the same touch of North Carolina he had when he first came up to NBC and he has a way of biting off his words that's pure inimitable Brinkley.

"Now this is true because Brinkley told me about it himself. A trade magazine was fixing to do a radio commercial and they wanted an actor, an impressionist, somebody who could imitate Brinkley's voice. Brinkley gets wind of it and he calls up these people.

"David says on the telephone: 'I do a pretty fair David Brinkley. But I can't go to the audition. I'll have to do my Brinkley for you on the telephone right now.'

"And then Brinkley talked some more. Finally, the guy at the other end says to him: 'You do a pretty good David Brinkley, but I'm afraid it isn't good enough.' True story. Or so David says. And if you can't believe a North Carolinian, who can you believe?"

Hartz likes the idea of regional dialects. "I just flat out love it when Bill Moyers comes forth with his Texas talk and when Fred Graham comes on like a warm breeze from Tennessee and Tom Wicker speaks pure Dixie. If I were coming up now, I wouldn't have made inny effort at all to change my Oklahoma way of talkin'.

"I dread the day, if it ever comes, when we're all flattened out and everybody everywhere talks the same."

For Jim Hartz, "Over Easy" is a very special piece of work. "Being on 'Over Easy' made me think of something I'd never thought of before, and that's getting older. This isn't a show about 'being old,' but getting older — aging, which begins the moment we're born.

"But one-fourth of our viewers are under 40. We have people on the show who tell them things to do while they're under 40 to make life better after 40. We're a service-and-information oriented show and we have medical experts and financial experts and interview guests — a great range of interview guests, from Phil Harris to Harrison Salisbury to Ethel Merman to Morey Amsterdam to Eva Marie Saint and Frankie Laine and June Allyson and Morris West and Jimmy Stewart and on and on."

Following one of the tenets of "Over Easy," Hartz does not permit himself to fall into the rut of tedium as a TV viewer. "I'm always sampling," Jim says. "One day I'll watch Roger Mudd and Tom Brokaw, the next it's Dan Rather, the next it's Frank Reynolds. One day I watch 'Today,' the next it's 'Good Morning America.'

"It's too easy to fall into a pattern — in your television watching and in your life."
